French and British Capture German Trenches.

TEUTON FORCES TAKE PRAGA

Occupation Brings to a Dramatic Climax First Phase of the Drive at the Polish Capital and the Region of Eastern Poland of Which Warsaw is the Dominating Center.

London, Aug. 10.—While the Austro-German armies made fresh progress in their campaign against the Russians the conflict on the western front took on a new impetus. Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force, reporting a fierce artillery engagement in which British and French forces captured trenches at Hooge along a front of 1,200 yards.

The occupation of Praga, reported by Berlin, brings to a dramatic climax the first phase of the drive at the Polish capital and the region of Eastern Poland of which Warsaw is the dominating center. Praga is essentially a part of the capital, with great railroad stations on the roads running to Petrograd and Moscow.

Few details have been received of Grand Duke Nicholas' final stand at Praga, but the indications are that the withdrawal of the Russians became imperative to escape from the German lines gradually drawing together in their rear.

Warsaw now is the apex of a vast letter V, the arms of which are the river Narew on the north and the Vistula on the south.

German Lines Contracting.

The German lines spread along these rivers are contracting gradually as the armies in the north and those in the south approach each other. The strip of territory across which the Russians may withdraw to safer positions now is hardly more than thirty miles across.

Besides this enveloping movement immediately to the east of Warsaw, Berlin reports a steady hammering at the great Russian fortresses of Kovno and Lomza, the chief significance of which is their proximity to the lines of railway communications to Petrograd. Novogeorgievsk is the only place west of Warsaw at which a Russian garrison remains and its fall seems imminent.

The attitude of the Poles towards the new German regime is arousing deep interest, as the occupation of Warsaw unites for the first time three branches of the Poles heretofore divided among Russia, Germany and Austria. Under the Russian regime Poland has been a hotbed of disorder and it remains to be seen whether control of this occupied territory will be as difficult a problem for Germany as it has been for Russia.

At the opening of the convention W. A. Snyder, vice president of the general committee on arrangements, said that the gross earnings of the members of the union during the year ended May 1, 1915, were $61,155,295, an increase of $104,593 over the previous year.

Tacoma High School Student Flings Baseball More Than 209 Feet.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 10.—What was said to be a new world's baseball throwing record for a girl was made by Miss Ruth McCabe when she threw ball 209 feet 5 inches.

GENERAL GOETHALS.

Resigns as Governor of the Panama Canal Zone.

1914, by American Press Association

WILL BE THROUGH NOV. 1

General Goethals Resigns as Governor of Canal Zone.

New York, Aug. 10.—The date of General George W. Goethals' resignation as governor general of the Panama canal zone has been designated as Nov. 1 in his formal resignation sent to Washington, according to an announcement made by him upon his arrival here from Cristobal.

General Goethals is surrendering his office because he believes his work at Panama is done and the canal is operating satisfactorily at the present time. He has spent seven years in Panama. Although he will no longer be connected with the canal zone's affairs as governor, should his resignation be accepted, he said he would retain his commission in the army.

HOLLAND PRESSES FOR PEACE TERMS

Agreed Germany's Prospects Are Better Than Ever.

Rotterdam, Aug. 10.—There is much talk in Holland of the possibility of opening a discussion between the belligerents on peace terms.

The Courant published an article from anonymous diplomatic sources urging that an immediate peace might be possible and recommending that the press of the neutral countries undertake the task of mediation and reconciliation and removing the errors.

The Dutch Anti-War league at a meeting last week at The Hague adopted a resolution urging the Dutch government to call a conference of the neutral powers in the interest of peace, the conference to sit until the end of the war for the purpose of "preparing for and introducing mediation measures at the proper time."

The article in the Courant, which has attracted wide attention in Holland, says in part:

"Although the prospects of the German powers now are better than they ever were before they cannot hope for a settlement by battle and therefore wiser counsels may prevail. As to the British it is not impossible that they will ultimately listen to the voice of reason."

ITALY WILL FURNISH MEN

Ready to Send Troops to France or Dardanelles.

New York, Aug. 10.—Italy will send 650,000 fresh troops to either France or the Dardanelles within the next three weeks, according to Captain Victor Del Francisc of the Italian army, who arrived on the steamer Duca d'Aosta.

"There were 500,000 troops in Turin when I left," said Captain Del Francisc, "and 150,000 more in Haranto, the naval base. Between 150 and 200 large transports were ready to convey the troops to where they are most needed."

No Word to Britain.

London, Aug. 10.—The British government has received no official report of Germany's rumored peace proposal to Russia. Official circles neither affirm nor deny the report, holding that if true the proposal probably is such a tentative form that it would not be insubstantial to Russia formally to communicate it to the allies.

Takes Precautions to Prevent Destruction of Buildings.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 10.—Guards have been placed about the plant of the Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing company.

William A. Viall, superintendent of the plant, explained the precautions as a "preventive measure, taken in view of the many outrages going on in different parts of the country."

Conqueror of Warsaw, and Happy Germans Going In Prince Leopold of Bavaria.

Prince Leopold of Bavaria led the victorious Germans into Warsaw, the largest city thus far taken in the war. But the way was made for him by the hard work of General von Hindenburg on the north and General Mackensen on the south.

The city is the most important so far taken in the war. But the Russian armies escaped and they will reform within Russia for further attacks on the Germans.

Warsaw had 872,478 population in 1911.

Has been called the most beautiful city in eastern Europe.

Is a great manufacturing centre, especially of iron and steel.

Situated in a fertile plain noted for its immense wheat production.

Connected by railroad trunk lines with Vienna, Kiev, Moscow, Petrograd, Danzig and Berlin.

Date of its foundation unknown, possibly in the ninth century.

Not mentioned in history until 1224.

In medieval times was the chief emporium for the trade of the valleys of the Pilica, Wieprz, Narew and Bug with western Europe.

Has been many times conquered and reconquered, and has been the scene of many bloody battles and uprisings.

Has been held by the Poles, Swedes, Russians, Prussia, the French under Napoleon, Austria and again, since 1813, by Russia.

The University of Warsaw has 1,500 students and a library of 500,000 volumes.

(By United Press)

The Prince announced that the Germans would do everything in their power to maintain order, their stated purpose being to make war only upon hostile armies.

BRITISH CAPTURE HOSGE

(By United Press)

Berlin, Aug. 10.—The Germans stormed and captured Lamza. This gives Gen. Von Hindenburg possession of four of the five fortresses guarding the Warsaw-Petrograd railway between Novogeorgievsk and Grodno. General Flock's forces broke the line at Lamza last night and entered the fortress this morning. It is admitted that the British captured the western part of Hosge.

Athens, Aug. 10.—The government has authorized a denial of the report that Greece negotiated a loan of $40,000,000 from Germany.

WILL FIGHT TO FINISH

(By United Press)

London, Aug. 10.—The allies will fight to a finish and make peace only on their own terms. This is the general tone of the angry comments of the British press regarding a message the German Chancellor H. R. H. Prince of Hesse sent the United Press. The British newspapers gave the item a prominent display declaring the statement was supreme impudence.

U. S. Battleships to Go to Vera Cruz

(By United Press)

Washington, August 10.—That the battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire will be on their way, perhaps this afternoon, from Newport to Vera Cruz is strongly indicated at the navy department. It is believed they have been ordered coaled and made ready thus justifying the denial that they have been ordered to leave. The battleships are apparently so prepared to get to sea at an instant's notice if the order arrived.

AUTHOR FAILS TO RALLY

George H. Fitch Dies Following an Operation.

Berkeley, Cal., Aug. 10.—George H. Fitch, the author of Peoria, Ill., died at a sanitarium here, having failed to rally from an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Fitch was taken ill on Saturday. He had been visiting his sister, Miss R. Louise Fitch, who is a student in the University of California.

Mr. Fitch came to California early in July with Mrs. Fitch, who was with him at the time of his death.

George Heaton Fitch was born in Galva, Ill., June 5, 1877. Among his most notable stories are, "The Big Strike at Siwash," "At Good Old Siwash" and "My Demon Motor Boat."

First—An appeal will be made to the Mexican factions to compose their differences in a convention or by such other means as they may regard as practicable.

Second—If any faction fails to observe this injunction the other factions will be expected to set up a government which, in due season, will be recognized by the United States, the republics of South America and the powers of Europe and the Far East.

Third—The faction that refuses to support the plan will be barred from the privilege heretofore exercised of obtaining support of any kind from either the United States or South America. This means that opposing factions will be unable to get equipment for military forces or funds for further military operations.

Fourth—Through the good offices of the secretary of the treasury a plan will be devised to finance the new government of Mexico.

The Mexican problem will be simplified should Carranza yield acquiescence to the convention plan.

There is ground for a reasonable expectation that he will enter into peace parleys with the other Mexican leaders.

Secretary Lansing talked optimistically about the situation.

"When the conference adjourned here last Friday," he said, "it had reached the point where a very definite policy with regard to the solution of the Mexican problem had been agreed upon.

The conference was adjourned because I wished to consult President Wilson regarding this agreement. I have consulted him through correspondence and we are now ready to resume deliberations and to proceed with the working out of details based upon the original agreement."

A divorced woman may be placed on the eligible list.

GIRL DROWNED IN RICE LAKE

Evelyn Belden, Aged 13, Daughter of Clyde E. Belden, Wades Out in Spirit of Daring

EFFORTS MADE TO SAVE HER

Mrs. Wm. Schwendeman, Who is No Swimmer, Narrowly Escapes Drowning Trying Rescue

With girls of her own age about her and women frantically endeavoring to save her, Evelyn Belden, aged 13, daughter of Clyde E. Belden, was drowned in Rice lake, Northeast Brainerd. Evelyn had waded out in a spirit of daring to stump the other girls. She was seen to wave her hands wildly and was noticed by Mrs. William Schwendeman, who was bathing her children on the beach.

Evelyn could swim a little. Mary Oaks, a companion, endeavored to save her. Mrs. Schwendeman, who could not swim, waded out to reach the struggling girl and stepped into a hole and was nearly drowned, and a chain of girls saved her. With a last agonized cry of, "Save me," Evelyn went down to her death. Her little brother arrived and dived repeatedly to find her.

Using grappling hooks Frank Schellhorn and George Ebinger, exploring with a motor boat, found the body an hour later in 15 feet of water. Evelyn was the oldest of six children and the family's little house-servant.

The father was at Fort Ripley at work at his trade of mason and was rushed to Brainerd in an auto. The home stands on a hill bordering the lake and very near the scene of the accident, a short distance to the west of the Whiteley Avenue dock.

The body was taken to the D. M. Clark & Co. undertaking room and later was brought back to the home.

The family is so distracted by the sad occurrence that no arrangements for the funeral have yet been announced.

Farewell Party

SWEDEN, AN ARMED CAMP

All Its Troops Ready for a Brush With the Enemy, Says George Malmgren, a Visitor

GERMANS ARE BUYING SUPPLIES

Over-bidding the Allies on Every Turn, Paying Big Prices for Scandinavian Horses

"Sweden looks like an armed camp and all the troops are ready for a brush with the enemy," says George Malmgren, who has just returned from a visit in the old country and who is the guest of friends in Brainerd.

"German agents and buyers," said Mr. Malmgren, "are around as thick as hair on a hog's back, over-bidding the Allies or anybody else on anything that can be bought. All the way from 10 to 20 per cent higher is generally paid by the Germans. The only thing that Germany appears to be well supplied with is arms, ammunition, cotton and copper, of which some make the claim that Germany had an enormous supply long before the war started."

"At present," continued Mr. Malmgren, "the Scandinavians are receiving nothing less than 1,400 kroner up to 2,800 kroner for their horses and of course the horses are a much better grade than what the Allies are able to get in America."

"There is a great amount of sympathy among all Scandinavians for Germany. The general opinion over there is that Germany will have the Allies subdued before another winter is over."

"The only excitement on the way to Sweden occurred when our liner, the Scandinavian-American Frederick VIII, while four hours out of New York, was halted by four British cruisers, made to heave to and was searched eight hours, delaying her that much. The rest of the trip was not eventful until I landed in Christiania and from there traveled to Norkoping.

Truly Paradise could not offer more to a newspaper man. We have had free eats, free smokes, free boat rides, free trolley rides, free auto rides, free speech, the freedom of the earth, air and the sea—what more do you want?"

The editor is a human cuss; an appreciative animal, nowhere better appreciated sometimes than outside his home town. He is religious for he has his chapel. Hell is handy in the shop, all boxed up.

There are many things in common in the iron business and newspaper work. Like a driller, the editor is never far from air or water.

The editor pumps and drills for news just like your iron driller exploring for ore.

He buys boiler plate just as the driller does. He makes a noise when he steams up. He is like the drill whistle. Too extensive tools of the whistle stop the machinery and exhaust his power.

The editor works under pressure and blows up occasionally. He gives his machinery a rest and knocks out the Hull-Rust of his equipment by this annual outing.

The editor has wheels and the whole community taps them occasionally.

The editor digs pits and often he falls into them himself. With all his experiences the iron never enters his soul.

The editor is a booster. He moves mountains like a steam shovel, and sometimes, like a shovel, he loses his balance.

The editor, like the steam shovel, needs a scoop in his business.

The bigger the scoop, the bigger the business and tonnage.

The editor is like the driller, uses air to run the works. The editor, like the driller, explores new fields, spots his prospect and bores into him. His reports must be accurate or they lack value. Too much phosphorous spoils the game. The public assays and weighs the paper and passes judgment.

Editors are powers in their communities. They are often taxed in endurance and ingenuity to keep themselves and their papers to the front.

The editor has his own troubles but never makes them public. He listens to every man's tale of woe, while he himself rarely unburdens himself.

Like the dump train in the pit, the editor often gets off the track and sometimes takes the wrong switch.

Sometimes the market for ore and ideas is poor. But persistency wins.

You can't keep a good man down.

Every editor has his day.

This trip has been an inspiration to us. Inspiration is of three kinds—liquid, solid and mental.

Brainerd Dispatch Man at Northern Minnesota Editorial Convention Speaks

AT THE HIBBING BANQUET

Capital and Brains of Duluth, Hibbing and Virginia Represented on the Cuyuna

Brainerd, the Cuyuna range and its towns of Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna, Barrows, Deerwood, Woodrow, Riverton and Oreland, Crow Wing county and its resources and the Brainerd Dispatch were put to the front by John A. Hoffbauer of the Dispatch, when called upon to speak at the Northern Minnesota Editorial convention banquet at Hibbing.

In the spacious hall of the Oliver club were seated the 300 diners and following a superb dinner, Robert Stratton, president of the Hibbing commercial club presided and called on various speakers.

Asa Wallace, president of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, expressed his appreciation of the courtesies shown by Hibbing.

Joe Reynolds, of the Mankato Free Press, showed how closely all sections and interests of Minnesota are correlated and united.

George Authier, Washington, D. C. correspondent of the Minneapolis Tribune, gave a witty address.

John A. Hoffbauer, of the Brainerd Dispatch, said:

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: It is with rare pleasure as a newspaper man from the Brainerd Dispatch and as a resident of the Cuyuna iron range, the baby range of Minnesota, that I reply to this invitation to speak.

This trip of the editors through Duluth, Virginia and Hibbing and its adjacent territory has been a revelation to us, a revelation in resources, in noble men and bright women, in a brand of hospitality which has over come us.

Truly Paradise could not offer more to a newspaper man. We have had free eats, free smokes, free boat rides, free trolley rides, free auto rides, free speech, the freedom of the earth, air and the sea—what more do you want?"

The editor has wheels and the whole community taps them occasionally.

The editor digs pits and often he falls into them himself. With all his experiences the iron never enters his soul.

The editor is a booster. He moves mountains like a steam shovel, and sometimes, like a shovel, he loses his balance.

The editor, like the steam shovel, needs a scoop in his business.

The bigger the scoop, the bigger the business and tonnage.

The editor is like the driller, uses air to run the works. The editor, like the driller, explores new fields, spots his prospect and bores into him. His reports must be accurate or they lack value. Too much phosphorous spoils the game. The public assays and weighs the paper and passes judgment.

Editors are powers in their communities. They are often taxed in endurance and ingenuity to keep themselves and their papers to the front.

The editor has his own troubles but never makes them public. He listens to every man's tale of woe, while he himself rarely unburdens himself.

Like the dump train in the pit, the editor often gets off the track and sometimes takes the wrong switch.

Sometimes the market for ore and ideas is poor. But persistency wins.

You can't keep a good man down.

Every editor has his day.

This trip has been an inspiration to us. Inspiration is of three kinds—liquid, solid and mental.

I don't know how many of us examined the machinery on the boat trip to Fond du Lac yesterday.

Into the pockets of our memory

we have taken tons of ore in thought-provoking material which we shall run through the concentrators of our minds and turn into high class, merchantable ideas, whole trainloads of them. Our minds and our stomachs are full and our pockets are bursting with cigars.

But just think of the boosting Duluth, Virginia and Hibbing will get when the 150 country editors get to their homes this week and write up the accounts of their visits. I mention Duluth, Virginia and Hibbing in the order of our visit and not in their importance, for every town we visit we put in first place for the time being.

The Cuyuna range, and Brainerd, is located in the heart of it with Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna, Barrows, Deerwood, Woodrow, Riverton, Oreland near by; this range will be a shipper this season of over a million and close to two million tons. These figures may not sound large to your Mesabi people, but they mean much to the Cuyuna, a range in its infancy but which has shown faster development than the Mesabi. We have pit and underground mines.

Brainerd boasts an iron mine in its city limits, a shipper this year.

Faces I have seen on the Mesabi are familiar on the Cuyuna. Capital of Duluth, Hibbing and Virginia is invested on the Cuyuna range. Brains of Duluth, Hibbing and Virginia men direct great enterprises on the Cuyuna.

Brainerd is famous in the sport world. Bender and Bush call Brainerd home.

At Duluth we saw that ski slide on Chester hill where that eminent red haired Scandinavian, Barney Riley, of the Mesabi ranges, made his thrilling high jump.

We met the German mayor of Virginia, Mike Boylan, on the train and he talked Virginia all the way.

We have read of Hibbing and its greatness and seen it in its splendor today.

Charles A. Cheney, a geologist of the Cuyuna range, has traced the probable connection of the north Cuyuna range with the west Mesabi.

Physically and commercially we are bound to you. We excel you in one thing though. We raise two crops on the Cuyuna in Crow Wing county. The soil crop of the surface turns out oats 80 to 100 bushels to the acre, rye and corn, berries in profusion. Our Hereford cattle and creamery butter are famous.

Then we have the crop of iron ore as you have under the surface.

We shall go home with new ideas garnered on this trip, to the betterment of our towns, to the betterment of the papers we represent and to the betterment of ourselves.

Paraphrasing Julius Caesar: "We came, we saw and you have conquered us with your kindness and hospitality."

On Saturday Fond du Lac was visited, the association being guests of the Duluth Commercial club. As guests of the club they were given a view of Duluth at night from the bay.

Sunday the editorial special traveled on the Duluth, Mesabi & Northern railway. At Virginia the town was lavishly decorated. Automobiles, headed by a band, took the party "around the horn," through Gilbert, Sparta and Eveleth and back to Virginia.

At Virginia officials of the Oliver Iron Mining Co. had arranged a train of flat cars on which the entire party was loaded and the decent made into the pit of the Alpena mine.

The editor works under pressure and blows up occasionally. He gives his machinery a rest and knocks out the Hull-Rust of his equipment by this annual outing.

The editor has wheels and the whole community taps them occasionally.

The editor digs pits and often he falls into them himself. With all his experiences the iron never enters his soul.

The editor is a booster. He moves mountains like a steam shovel, and sometimes, like a shovel, he loses his balance.

The editor, like the steam shovel, needs a scoop in his business.

The bigger the scoop, the bigger the business and tonnage.

UNITED STATES REFUSES OFFER

Declines to Join Neutrals in Protest to Britain.

SWEDISH LEGATION ACTIVE

Negotiations Disclose Inconsistencies Which the American Government Cannot Concur in and the Indications Are That Negotiations With London Will Be Carried on Separately.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The United States will continue to act alone in representations to Great Britain regarding neutral trade.

It was learned that negotiations begun by the Swedish legation here to secure American co-operation in proposed concerted action of neutrals to protect against the British orders in council so far as they work hardship on neutral commerce have brought no results.

The most recent Swedish proposal contemplated identical notes of protest by neutrals, flat rejection by the American state department having made a previous suggestion for a joint note.

Negotiations are still in progress, but have failed so far to develop a common ground upon which action could be based.

Some details of the Swedish position as to trade interference by Great Britain, it is said, are inconsistent with the contentions of the United States in exchange with the London foreign office.

Reports as to the strong German sympathies in Sweden also are believed to have been considered by the state department, although the formal reasons given for refusal to join in the movement are largely technical.

Sweden Pressing Proposal.

The Swedish legation has been pressing the proposal vigorously. The first plan, contemplating joint protest by the United States, the Scandinavian countries and Holland, was rejected on the ground that the United States could not involve itself in any agreements that might be interpreted as contracting entangling European alliances.

Business Men In Congress.

C. L. Marks of Canandaigua, N. Y., says that business men are needed in congress. He points out the La Follette's seamen's bill, the Reed amendment relative to baggage and the 5 per cent discrimination in regard to shipping in the tariff bill as measures which result from impractical legislation by lawyers. He thinks the business man would not have committed these errors.

Negotiations progressed to a point where both the Swedish and American governments prepared tentative drafts of proposals to be sent to Great Britain.

The Swedish proposals were submitted to the state department, but were found to be unsatisfactory in numerous details. The department's informal statement to the Swedish minister, it is said, makes it clear that negotiations are making no progress.

WANT FIRMNESS WITHOUT A WAR

President Confronts Two Sided Advice Everywhere.

NEED FORCE TO BACK IT UP

Administration Members Point Out That More Ammunition Is Shot Away In a Single Day Than the United States Has on Hand—What Germany Would Do If We Should Enter Fight.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The people want the president to stand firm with Germany, and at the same time they are telling him to keep us out of war with Germany.

So spoke one of the men in the administration close to the president.

That is the difficulty the president confronts in dealing with one of the gravest problems that have come to him as head of a great nation. It is the result of the note sent to Germany when the whole country was aroused over the destruction of the Lusitania and demanded that the president "deal firmly with the situation."

One trouble in dealing firmly with a diplomatic situation is that it takes power and force sometimes to back up the firmness. To make demands is one thing and to enforce them in case the other fellow refuses to comply with them is another. That is just where we are in the controversy.

Must Avoid War.

There are members of the administration who insist that the United States must avoid war. It is pointed out that in one day's fighting more ammunition is shot away than the United States has on hand.

With something like 3,000,000 pounds of powder we would not last a month even with the modest force which we could send into the war. Another fact which is pointed out is that travel on the American ships would stop in case of war. Not only would it be dangerous to go on the British ships, but it is altogether likely that the Germans would make a special effort to "get" every American ship as soon as war was declared between the two countries. While commerce is now hampered by Great Britain, it might be destroyed by the German submarines.

Business Men In Congress.

C. L. Marks of Canandaigua, N. Y., says that business men are needed in congress. He points out the La Follette's seamen's bill, the Reed amendment relative to baggage and the 5 per cent discrimination in regard to shipping in the tariff bill as measures which result from impractical legislation by lawyers. He thinks the business man would not have committed these errors.

The new proposal then submitted suggested that all neutral nations whose commerce was suffering through the British war measures should agree upon a policy and act in co-operation, sending identical notes to London and generally concentrating their efforts.

Negotiations progressed to a point where both the Swedish and American governments prepared tentative drafts of proposals to be sent to Great Britain.

The Swedish proposals were submitted to the state department, but were found to be unsatisfactory in numerous details. The department's informal statement to the Swedish minister, it is said, makes it clear that negotiations are making no progress.

West Virginia to Pay.

When Associate Justice Hughes figured out that West Virginia owed Virginia $12,000,000 he gave the mountain state a severe jolt, but the citizens of that state say that they will obey the mandate of the highest court and pay up. It is expected that a method of adjusting the big debt will be made by which it will be carried over a long period.

Mexican Money.

One of the tribulations of Americans in Mexico is that the various governments have issued "money" which they compel Americans to accept in payment of anything which they may take. But they insist that Americans must pay in United States money for everything which they buy. The American citizen south of the Rio Grande has had a precarious time during the past four years.

Never Thought of Sugar.

Next to Louisiana, the most violent protests against free sugar came from Hawaii. Consequently it is refreshing to be assured that the Hawaiians who put up for the big Hawaiian congressional junket this year had no thought whatever of sugar when they took the senators and representatives to the islands. At the same time quite a number of these visitors were told what an important industry sugar was to the islands and if the duty was restored it would greatly aid in developing the industry of Hawaii. And when it comes down to discussing the needs of additional revenue we will hear more about it.

Learning to Shoot.

Rifle shooting is becoming quite popular in this country, according to the board for the promotion of that practice. The war department is encouraging rifle shooting, and many people are taking it up as a sport and also as means of fitting themselves for future emergencies. In late years, especially since the disappearance of most of the game, rifle and other kinds of shooting have been abandoned to a great extent.

HAS 80,000 MEN IN EUROPE

Canada Has Nearly an Equal Number in Training.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 10.—Canada has sent about 80,000 soldiers to Europe for war service, according to figures given out here. These men are now in France on active service or completing training in England. From 60,000 to 65,000 men are being trained at various camps in the Dominion and corps are being dispatched to Europe at frequent intervals.

It is said men are still offering themselves for various services in large numbers.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Encouraging reports on conditions in Haiti came from Rear Admiral Caperton. With American marines and bluejackets controlling the principal towns, naval officers administering the customs houses and revolutionary leaders giving assurances of co-operation, officials here hoped for rapid progress toward restoring a permanent native government.

General Bobo, the northern revolutionist, has assured Admiral Caperton he will co-operate in efforts to restore order. Bobo is a candidate for the presidency, but has agreed to abide by the choice of the congress. Similar assurances have been given by Bourard, another presidential aspirant.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

THE GOOD JUDGE TRIES TO MAKE PEACE

ALL argument stops when a man gets the taste of the Real Tobacco Chew.

The taste and comfort it gives him tells him that the Real Tobacco Chew is right. Many men are telling their friends about the clean, small chew that satisfies.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!!

W-B-C IT IS LONG-SHRED. R-C IS SHORT-SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of tobacco and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.
